Directions From Heathrow Airport:

The quickest way into London from Heathrow is by train. The 'Heathrow Express' can be accessed from all Heathrow terminals, and leaves every 15 minutes. Travel time to London's Paddington Station is only 15-20 minutes. Tickets cost £12-15 GBP. A taxi from Heathrow into London can take up to an hour when the traffic is bad, and typically costs around £50 GBP.

Once at Paddington Station, you can either take a taxi (journey time of 20-25 minutes, costs around £10-12 GBP), or take the Tube (underground railway). The Bakerloo Line (the brown colour line on Tube maps) provides a direct connection from Paddington to Charing Cross. Trains run every 5 minutes or so, and the journey (7 stops) takes less than 15 minutes. Ticket machines are located just inside the entrance to the Underground Station. You need a 'Zone 1' ticket (costs £2 GBP one-way).

When you arrive at Charing Cross, walk towards the exit at the front of the platform, go up the stairs, turn left and go up the escalator and through the ticket barrier. Then turn immediately right and go up the stairs, following the signs to the Trafalgar Square exit.

Once in Trafalgar Square, you're less than 2 minutes from Tatara's office, so take a moment to admire this classic landmark of English heritage! Then look for South Africa House (should be on your right) and the imposing National Gallery (should be straight ahead). Head towards the National Gallery and turn right towards St. Martin's-in-the-Field Church. Duncannon Street runs between St. Martin's-in-the-Field Church and South Africa House.
